ITALIA CALL URGES SPEED BY RESCUERS

KINGS BAY, Spitzberger, June 11.—While plans for an airplane expedition to the rescue of the crew of the Italia were being made here tonight, it was revealed in wireless messages from the ice cutter Braganza, that Lt. Lutzen Holm, Norwegian pilot was stranded at Mossel Bay. Holm's airplane was forced down by fuel shortage, it was reported.

KINGS BAY, June 11.—(UPI) —Preparations were made tonight for an immediate flight to the aid of the suffering crew of the stranded dirigible Italia. Capt. H. Elser-Larsen and Lt. Lutzen Holm will attempt to carry food and medicines to General Umberto Nobile and his men, whose position is becoming more critical hourly.

Messages to the Citta di Milano, mother ship of the Italia, indicated the plight of the crew was desperate as if that Nobile and a part of his men were driving toward open water. Experts believe their efforts to reach the relief ship Braganza, 120 miles distant, would be hopeless.

Two injured members of the crew were found by Lt. Holm in a flight over Brady Bay on the coast of Northeastland, he reported today. The crew had split into three groups, according to wireless reports. All the groups apparently were

14,000 Will Pack Hall In Kansas City

By PAUL R. MALLON

KANSAS CITY, June 11.—(UPI) —The doors of the hall will be open to 14,000 delegates and spectators early tomorrow for the 19th quadrennial Republican National convention.

Rows on rows of old-fashioned kitchen chairs for delegates fill the main arena; concrete boxes circle around them as in the old Roman amphitheatre; balcony of theatre stalls where ladies of fashion will sit and peanut gallery with circus seats await the coming of the crowds to participate in the nomination of a Republican candidate.

The last of the all-night conferences of delegates will be just breaking up as the band files into the vast chamber covering half of a city block, to play for the early arrivals.

Nearby hotel lobbies are filled with political workers. Banners and flags wave from the railings of the mezzanine floors.

Pep and enthusiasm are the order of the nights. The business is adopted and the convention gets around to balloting. In the meantime the gala routine of organization must be completed with. This will require at least two days, crowded with keynote speeches, sessions, committee meetings, handshaking and off-stage bartering among the delegates.

Woman Forger Is Heavily Guarded On Prison Trip

On Prison Trip

Closely guarded by deputy sheriffs, and with heavy leather straps around her hands and legs, Mrs. Evelyn Rosenerantz, Oakland woman sentenced to life imprisonment for forgery, was brought through Richmond yesterday from where she was taken to San Quentin on the Richmond ferry.

Special precautions were taken aboard the ferry, police believing the woman might attempt to take her life.

Mrs. Rosenerantz wept most of the way across, stilling her sobs occasionally to declare she would not spend the rest of her life in prison.

During the month there were 19,000 tons of freight handled, and of this figure 7382 tons were shipped.

The gross revenue for the month was $677,19 and the gross expense $360,64.

HAVE HOUSE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Ward McRacken of 565 Eleventh street, have as their guests Mrs. Lloyd Costa and daughter Janet of Chico. Mrs. McRacken and Mrs. Costa are sisters.

Mrs. Helen Anderson of Livermore is spending two weeks vacation here with her aunt, Mrs. Fred Behn of 686 Sixth Street.

DETAIL EXPOSE IS THREATENED BY MAYOR LEE

Echoes of the alleged El Cerito bribery case, which figured largely in the recent election in that city, and which has been "on tap" with the grand jury, were heard at the meeting of the council of the county line town last evening.

Unless definite word is received from the district attorney's office as to what action is to be taken in regard to the charges Mayor Phil Lee will at the next meeting of the council read all of the evidence he submitted to the district attorney.

The matter was unexpectedly brought to the attention of the trustees again at the meeting last evening when Fred Begerow, who was a witness before the grand jury wanted to know what had become of the "bribery case." He had written to the district attorney asking if he was to be called to testify.

In addition the Vermont delegation decided to vote for Hoover.

Furthermore, William S. Davis, one of the Pennsylvania leaders announced he takes the president's "do not choose" word and will seek to have the Pennsylvania delegation vote for Hoover.

As the time for opening of the convention drew close this uncertain situation developed many amazing angles, the most conspicuous being a growing feeling among the delegates that unless President Coolidge speaks the final decisive words that would foreclose him from accepting the nomination, the convention will register a sizeable vote for his re-nomination—with the possibility of a stampede that would give him a majority.

Many leaders have come to the conclusion that the very silence at the White House in face of the drift toward the president's re-nomination here is tacitly aiding the drift in that direction. This group is coming to feel increasing sympathy for Mr. Coolidge who is asking the party to see him.

At the vacation period is at hand it was decided no further meetings of the body would be held until September.

President Garfinkle gave a resume of the work of the association for the past six years and told what had been accomplished.

The location of the El Dorado Oil company on the west side of Richmond's harbor came up for discussion, and the merchants present expressed themselves as being in favor of seeing that everything possible was done to insure the new industry coming to Richmond.

Finally a vote was ordered on the question as to the result of the ballot and City Attorney Carlson was asked by the mayor for a ruling.

"The motion has been carried," said Carlson, "there were two votes in the affirmative and none against it."

Then ensued arguments, with the result that after plans are submitted, if there are protests filed, the council can then take final action.

Mellon Forces Hold Power To Nominate California Entry

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent

KANSAS CITY, June 11.—(UPI)—The "Draft Coolidge" movement appeared to have completely collapsed here tonight when Chairman William Butler of the republican National committee, Coolidge's closest personal political advisor, indicated to friend that he would vote for Herbert Hoover on every ballot of the convention as long as Hoover is a contender.

It was also learned that Secretary of Treasury Mellon had indicated to a close friend that he expects to vote for Hoover and believes it is hopeless to expect the president to accept the nomination.

In addition the Vermont delegation decided to vote for Hoover.

Furthermore, William S. Davis, one of the Pennsylvania leaders announced he takes the president's "do not choose" word and will seek to have the Pennsylvania delegation vote for Hoover.

ROMANCE OF UNDERWORLD AT RICHMOND

Once in a blue moon a picture comes that exceeds all the promises made for it and such a one came to town yesterday and had its first showing at the California theatre.

The picture is "Dressed to Kill," Fox Film's novel story of the modern underworld.

Edmund Lowe, remembered for his splendid work in "What Price Glory?" plays the role of "Miles Away Barry," the master crook-debonair, immaculately dressed, perfectly groomed, patron of the opera and night clubs and consort of silkies ladies, in direct contrast to the accepted type of thug who sneaks up a dark alley and delays his victim with a black jack.

Bin Bard is his chief assistant and Mary Astor plays the leading female role, adding her refreshingly beauty to the picture, while Charles Morton plays opposite her in the romantic role.

There is much to commend this delightful entertainment. Thrills, laughter, suspense and heart in tact, and a story out of the ordinary that retains its interest from beginning to end.

Other film features include "A Fool and His Money," a comedy screen; Topics and Fables.

lect a new leader, he would say the short, simple words that will completely remove him from consideration.

Once that is done, the Hoover drive will reach its full momentum and is so close to the necessary majority that his nomination could hardly be long delayed, it is generally agreed.

All that appears to be holding him back now is the possibility that Mr. Coolidge can yet be dethroned.

But there were equally important developments tending against the drafting of the president. They included these:

1. Senator Borah told the Idaho delegation that he did not for a moment believe President Coolidge would accept renomination and that should he accept he must face the campaign charge of insincerity in pretending not to want to run and then accepting when one word would take him out.

Borah conferred with the Mellon suite shortly after Curtis died.

Because of the Curtis position in the allied anti-Hoover movement and because of his well known role of negotiator among republican politicians, the conference was regarded as one of the most important in the pre-convention maneuvering here today.

Curtis, after the conference at Mellon's suite, said they had discussed a number of subjects, but declined to specify.

Elks Committee Plans Series Of Summer Programs

A snappy entertainment will be staged tonight by the entertainment committee of the Richmond Lodge of Elks. The committee is planning a series of entertainments to keep the lodge from the customary summer lull.

The Carlton Sisters and Mack will head tonight's bill and L. J. Thomas, chairman of the committee, said yesterday that he considers the Carlton act alone of sufficient calibre to warrant a large crowd attending.

Mrs. J. R. Porter of Galt, formerly a resident of El Cerrito, enjoyed the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Cora J. A. Simonson.

Bobbed hair peeped out from beneath light hat brims; their scarves twisted about white necks; brilliant ear-rings jangled; diamonds five dollars down, paid as you please, glinted in "tubby fingers."

Up along the Bowery came the girls, hours late, save for the evening reflections of light filtering down from the lofty Palisades, faintly blue and gloomy in the darkness of the eve. Down along Fifth Avenue, the girls of Broadway were seen in a reproduction of the annual Army-Navy game, and is one of the most elaborately staged sequences in the picture, most of which was taken at the academy itself.

Haines, with Joan Crawford as his leading lady and a large cast, journeyed to West Point from the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to film these scenes in big production, as well as the scenes filmed on the Hudson river, in which the famous steamer "De Witt Clinton" was used. Edward Sedgwick directed the new picture from an original story by Raymond L. Schrock. Other film features include "To Much Sleep" and Topic and Fables.

At about the room againt the wall were lined innumerable cubby-holes with a table to each. An entire series of tables about the walls, raised on high legs, that constituted the dance floor gave the cafe its name—“Ringside.” Hanging baskets of artificial flowers, slightly dusty and bedraggled, swing from gilded tables with little cinks.

At the corner of the Bowery and Grand Street a policeman in a great cape opened the yellow box on the iron post and rang in. Down through the Tenderloin district the shops along the street shouted their wares. Jewels, imitation and real, glittered alluringly. Small, murky lights, looking here and there in dimly lit windows. Black-shuttered doors sent forth a reeking odor of stale beer and cheap whiskey, intermingling with the aroma of the hot dog stands and their great piles of chopped onions and peppers.

Tall warehouses with gaping windows crowded against the tenements wherein innumerable lives came into being, struggled, and died. Below on the street, passers-by seemed to have lost their busyness, or, if not, were more intent on protecting themselves against the rain. Long, shanty Oriental eyes peered from doorways. Cultural tongues fell thickly with the softer accents of the Latin races. Beneath are lamps on the corners; slender men peeped from under low-pulled hair brims, their hands thrust deep in their pockets, their coat collars pulled high about their necks to snuff out the dark coldness.

The tinkling of a coin in the slot of a battered, automatic piano sent discordant notes to mingle with the passing

SAN PABLO IS WINNER OVER OAK OUTFIT

Jinx Stalks Sannies In Sunday Game

Although Lefty Blits held the opposition to five scattered hits, ill luck continued to pursue Phil Jones' Sannies Sunday as they lost a 5 to 4 ten-inning decision to the John Powers Cluthers at the First Street park.

The Sannies counted seven hits while both teams erred once.

The Clothiers runs were mainly due to circuit clouds which enabled them to chalk up a victory despite their scarcity of safe blows.

Sportsmen Club To Present Film On Fish And Game

Five reels of motion pictures depicting wild life will be shown Wednesday evening in Brotherhood hall under the direction of the Richmond Sportsmen's club. It was announced yesterday that it is for the benefit of the Boy Scouts and the public may attend without charge.

Following the motion picture, Walter Welch, head of the volunteer game wardens of the state, will talk on "Diminishing Wild Life."

A regular meeting of the Sportsmen club will follow.

Home Office Team Wins Over Refinery Club

The San Francisco office of the Standard Oil took three out of four matches here Saturday from the crack tennis squad of the refinery.

Tuberculosis Tests Will Be Made Here

Testing of cows for tuberculosis symptoms will be undertaken here by the city and state veterinarian, Dr. Louch, according to an announcement made yesterday by City Health Officer

Cherie Blake.

The owning cows are requested to notify the health department, and members of the staff will make the tests.

Dr. Blake urges general cooperation in this work in order to reduce possibility of children contracting tuberculosis by drinking milk from cows which do not pass the test.

EL CERRITO COUNCIL TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING FOR PROTEST DISCUSSION

A special meeting will be held Monday evening at 8 p. m. in the city hall by the council of El Cerrito to dispose of the protest filed a week ago by Clyde Barber, who claimed that he was not appointed to the position of traffic officer on account of an error in grading his examination paper and due to discrimination of a member of the council.

At the request of Mayor Phil A. Lee, Traffic Officer Floyd Gilbert, who was the lowest man to qualify in the examination, Claude Barber and Chief of Police R. B. Cheek will also be present at the meeting.

Request of Mr. and Mrs. C. Wilson, for an estimate of the cost per front foot of the street improvement in the Berkeley Country Club Terrace tract was referred to Street Commissioner Peter Larsen.

Protest filed by W. D. Stark against paying City Clerk Alice Morris an expense account of twenty-five dollars a month, which was in reality a raise in salary, was placed on file when the clerk stated that she would not ask for the expense money except when the office required expenditures.

No comment was made when the protest of A. Spalding and B. H. Neuhoff against the city paying $250 vacation money for traffic officers, J. F. Walsh was placed on file at the suggestion of Councilman Charles Zimmerman.

Petition of the residents of the hill district to have the city park square in the Berkeley Country Club Terrace Tract improved, was referred to Park Commissioner Peter Larsen for one week.

Application of Charles Schwake to transfer his dance permit to Jerry Russel to conduct nightly dances in the building on San Pablo avenue, across from Fair-

Boys Lead In Births Recorded During May

Births registered at the health office during May totalled 32, according to a report released yesterday by Commissioner of Health Charles R. Blake. This is nine less than May of 1927, two less than May of 1926 and nine less than May of 1925.

Of the May births registered, 19 were boys and 13 girls; 29 were white, 3 Mexicans; 22 of American parents, 7 of foreign parents and 3 of mixed, foreign and American parents.

The complete list follows:

May 22, daughter to the wife of C. Abbott; May 9, daughter to the wife of F. Alcaras; May 12, son, B. Baird; May 2, son, J. Berney; May 7, son, V. Colombo; May 11, daughter, P. Cook; May 12, son, C. Cooley; May 12, son, D. Davis; May 14, son, A. Frey; May 5, son, L. Garcia; May 7, son, P. Gilbert; May 22, daughter, J. Gheenestin; May 13, daughter, E. Hampton; May 12, son, L. Johnson; May 20, son, L. Kratzer; April 17, daughter, F. Lewis; May 26, daughter, A. McDonald; May 28, son, A. Maier; May 26, daughter, A. Mapelli; May 22, son, W. Mills; May 28, daughter, J. Moyer; May 6, son, J. Pieres; May 4, son, S. Quiros; May 22, son, G. Renkert; May 10, son, C. Shryock; May 14, daughter, J. Sousa; May 20, daughter, W. Steiger; May 7, son, E. Sullivan; May 25, daughter, J. Thatcher; May 5, daughter, S. Totaro; May 26, son, A. Wickstrom.

Balances in the following funds were reported on hand June 1, by City Treasurer Cora J. M. Simonson, Motor Vehicle Fund $15,663.75; Fire Bond Fund $6,462.82 and General Fund of $839.22.

According to the report of Police Judge J. F. Flank, fines collected for motor vehicle violations during the month of May were $182.88.

Building Inspector H. E. Wood, reported permits issued for May totaling $11,150.

As no protests were received on the proposed burning of weeds in the city, the council instructed Street Superintendent R. R. Cheek to commence work immediately.

City Clerk Alice Morris informed the council that Miss Moses, who audited the books of former Police Judge W. A. Hinds, did not appear before the council Monday night due to a misunderstanding, but would appear next Monday night to give her final report.

On the suggestion of Street Commissioner Peter Larsen, City Attorney J. H. Peters was instructed to get a written agreement from the California Construction company, stating that they will replace all streets that they have hauled over in constructing the streets in the hill district back to their original condition.

Odd Fellows Attend Crockett Ceremony

Eclipse Lodge of Odd Fellows held a short business meeting last night in Odd Fellows Hall, after which they journeyed to Rodeo where the third degree was conferred.

The local lodge exemplified the degree work.

At the business session, reports were delivered by members of the picnic committee that the grounds where the picnic is to be held at Skow's ranch July 8, had been cleared and that next Sunday tables would be built. Reports were also delivered concerning the memorial service held Sunday night. Canton Richmond No. 40, acted as a guard of escort to the services in the First Baptist church.

The first degree will be conferred by Eclipse Lodge next Monday night and the second degree will probably be conferred the following Monday.

Kiwanis to Hear Of French Trip

"My Trip to France with the American Legion" is the subject of the address to be delivered before the Richmond Kiwanis club at the Hotel Carquinez tomorrow by Frank L. Combs, past state commander of the American Legion. La Balleau is an excellent location for melons and specialty crops. Complete set of buildings included in the price.

Terms 1-4 cash; balance in 10 years at 6%.

SUMMER CAMP CALLS LOCAL Y. M. C. A. LADS

About 55 young men and boys left yesterday for Camp Plonker, the Richmond Y. M. C. A. summer camp on the Russian river. This is the 9th annual camp of the local association.

The boys registered at their destination at about 2 p.m. and found everything in readiness for them including their first meal of camp. An advance party under the leadership of Everett Tiffemore has been busy at the camp since Friday afternoon and tents, kitchen and tables are ready for the arrival of the boys.

The camp is under the direction of Reynold Carlson and George Harlow. The boys will be divided into 7 tents under the direction of the following leaders: Everett Tiffemore, George Johnston, Clarence Toye, Frank Fenix, Merle Gibson, Marion Snodgrass, Bob Fenix and Clayton D'Arcy.

The following is a list of the boys who will spend the next two weeks in camp: Sidney Hadsell, Edward Bouquet, Carl Drexl, U. Boschetti, Howard Miller, Leonard Miller, Eugene Robertson, Bob Miller, John Ball, Lewis Ball, Stanley Poulsen, Steve Buchanan, Cannon Krammer, Ed Hart, Emeril Baxter, Roy Weston, Charles Hill, Donald McKeen, Walter Gilen, Bernard Parker, Edwin Poole, Royce Pumill, William Van Fleet, Jack DuBois, Edward Owens, Edward Faust, Jack Deemling, Eldred Jewell, Ralph Johnson, Paul Olegent, Paul Barbikas, James Smith, Kermil, Moe, Kent Johnson, Adrian Newman, Preston Dover, Harry Carpenter, Edward Davis, Schuyler Albert, Harmon Jatta, Clarence Poulsen, Wallin Carlson, and James Watson.

The first day of the camp was spent in getting settled and outlining the camp program. At the first campfire, on Monday evening, a camp governor and a council was elected to help work out the camp program and settle minor matters of discipline.

The ready adoption of the telephone by the Indians emphasizes their traditional liking for the quickest means of communication dating from the old days, when smoke signals and couriers served the purposes of their forefathers.

The Indian village, situated on the Mill street road, east of Reno, will soon have a water supply mains and sewer connections.

It already is provided with a church, school house and medical service through the auspices of the Indian service, a government agency.

The airplane relief expedition was believed the only means of saving the crew, some members of which apparently are suffering extreme hardships. The efforts of the stranded men to reach the mainland or a rescue ship were handicapped by glaciators and the open water it was reported, and treacherous currents block the way even if they were equipped with boats.

Captain Romagna of the Citta di Milano told the United Press his ship had communicated with the Italia four times within the last 24 hours.

Boats were needed, the messages said, to enable the men to reach the mainland. The men in the party with Nobile were living in the Italia's cabin.
